

David M. Sagehorn
Executive Vice President, Chief Financial Officer

David M. Sagehorn is responsible for directing the company's overall financial policies, as well as managing all financial functions including accounting, investor relations, credit and insurance.

Sagehorn joined Oshkosh in March 2000 in the role of senior manager, mergers and acquisitions, and subsequently assumed roles of increasing responsibility, including director and vice president of business development; vice president, finance for Oshkosh's defense group; and vice president and treasurer for the corporation before being promoted to his current position. He was also responsible for mergers & acquisitions (M&A) and strategic planning for the corporation, supporting the company's growth and diversification strategies.

Prior to joining Oshkosh, Sagehorn worked in corporate finance at CNH Global (formerly Case Corporation). He began his career at a public accounting firm in Madison, Wis., achieving the position of audit manager.

Sagehorn holds a bachelor's degree in accounting from the University of Wisconsin – Platteville and an MBA from Marquette University. He is a certified public accountant.